Glenn T. Melchinger

Director

Glenn helps clients efficiently identify issues, find answers, and take action.

Glenn was drafting motions for a jury trial in his first days of practice, and he has been litigating ever since. His practice focuses on resolution of civil and complex disputes, especially those involving computer systems, electronic evidence, and technology. Glenn consults regarding litigation preparedness, cyber-issues and speaks on electronic discovery. He writes and speaks Japanese, and helps Japan clients with disputes, business issues, real property and other transactions.

Glenn has his J.D., cum laude, from the William S. Richardson School of Law, University of Hawai`i, where he served as Production Editor for the Law Review.
