John Anderson L. Meyer

Stockholder / Director

Anderson Meyer is a commercial litigator whose knowledge of the law helps clients avoid disputes, and resolve disputes if they arise.

He practices in the areas of commercial litigation, construction litigation, personal injury – defense, insurance defense, healthcare, medical malpractice defense, legal malpractice, constitutional and civil rights litigation, and appellate practice. He advises and represents hospitals, medical centers, health insurers, and healthcare systems statewide on medical staff issues, including credentialing, fair process hearings, medical staff bylaws, peer review practices, root cause analyses, and insurance-coverage disputes. He has represented multiple Hawai`i-licensed healthcare professionals in investigations and proceedings before the State of Hawai`i Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs (DCCA), and represents healthcare and healthcare insurer clients in both administrative matters and in litigation.

Anderson has lectured on appellate advocacy at the William S. Richardson School of Law, his alma mater, since 2009. He has also worked with the University of Hawai`i Elder Law Program (UHELP), educating Hawai`i's kupuna with respect to end of life decision making, and he serves on the panel of court-appointed arbitrators for the Hawai`i Court Annexed Arbitration Program.

Selected by Super Lawyers as a “Rising Star” since 2013, Anderson has appeared before all courts in the State of Hawai`i, and has argued successfully before the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals.

Raised in Honolulu, Anderson received two undergraduate degrees from the University of Washington, and a Master’s Degree in Philosophy from the University of Hawai`i at Mānoa before attending the William S. Richardson School of Law, from which he graduated summa cum laude. Prior to joining AHFI, he was a partner at Robbins Meyer Rufo, a civil litigation and trial practice firm in Honolulu.
