Blaine Rogers

Stockholder / Director

The hallmarks of Blaine Rogers' legal career are outstanding client service and positive results. He is dogged in his pursuit of closing cases efficiently, and to the highest satisfaction of the people and companies he represents.

Blaine practices in the areas of commercial litigation, lender liability, real estate and land use, title insurance and escrow, environmental and cultural resources, collections and foreclosures, constitutional and civil rights, class actions, and appellate law.

Mr. Rogers was the first Legal Fellow in a joint program between the Hawai'i Department of the Attorney General and Department of Land and Natural Resources, administratively prosecuting Hawaii's first coral damage cases. He is also the proud recipient of a 2012 Outstanding Pro Bono Attorney Award, and maintains a preeminent rating from Martindale-Hubbell, and top Real Estate Litigation attorney ranking from Best Lawyers in America.

Before joining AHFI, Blaine clerked for the Honorable David Alan Ezra, Chief Judge Emeritus of the United States District Court for the District of Hawai'i. He received his J.D. from the University of Hawaii William S. Richardson School of Law (magna cum laude), and his B.A. from UCLA.
