

Sandra Fujiyama

Of Counsel

Over her career, Sandra's practice has focused on intellectual property litigation, predominantly patent litigation on behalf of both plaintiffs and defendants, and intellectual property counseling. Her cases have involved a range of technologies, including pharmaceuticals, monoclonal antibodies, stem cells, computer hardware and software, and smartphone technology. She also has worked on copyright and trademark litigation matters and patent and trademark prosecution matters. She has also counseled clients on pre-litigation, due diligence, and licensing matters.

She was one of four partners who opened Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati's Los Angeles office in 2013. Prior to that, she was a partner at Sidley Austin LLP in Los Angeles. She started her career in intellectual property in 2000 at Lyon & Lyon LLP. Before that, she worked at Monteleone & McCrory, a commercial and business litigation firm with a national reputation in the construction industry.

While in LA, Sandra was also involved in a number of organizations, including serving on the boards of the California Bar Foundation, the Japanese American Bar Association Educational Foundation, and the Asian Pacific American Women Lawyers Alliance. She also served as a Lawyer Representative to the Ninth Circuit Judicial Conference.

Sandra graduated, with honors, from the University of California, Los Angeles (UCLA) in three years with a B.S. in Biochemistry. Upon graduation, she also received the Ethel Terry McCoy Award recognizing women for Excellence in Biochemistry. She received her JD from the UCLA School of Law.
